

Hit The BROOM!

Behind The Scenes At The Local Curling Ring.
By H. H. Downs

It is a common knowledge that one of the main qualifications of a member of a banking institution is almost a complete understanding of mathematics. This is necessary as almost the entire time of a bank clerk is occupied in arranging figures, the records of this admitted knowledge of the art of manipulating figures, beyond the bank were unable to do anything with the final figures on the score board during one of their curling games. On the small and to a 15-5 score in a game that produced the only 6 ends of the season to date in addition to a two, the bank was bolstered with the aid of (doctor) Hanna, took to go to H.

We have all read how the coaches of baseball, football and hockey teams gather their men together just prior to a crucial game and give them what is called a "pop talk." I doubt very much the advisability of carrying this practice into curling, especially following a demonstration last week. I changed to overlook "Pop" talk. I am telling members of the rink how they would play their game, in order to dispense with the opposition in a satisfactory manner. Among the things that have chalked up the most wins so far, this rink took their most triumphant of the season on that night in spite of the fact that their skip had explained a few things to them in the afternoon.

Last week the local club was honored by the visit of the Brooks Curling club of three rinks. Twelve members of the local club played bowls to the twelve curlers of Brooks. Riley Threlk, was and was going good enough to end the game in 10 ends, with two ends to go. Dr. Scott maintained his position at the helm of his ship, skipping it through to a 15-5 win over Frank Dillon. Whether we should say that "Reddy," our club secretary, dropped his game because the opposition was too strong, or that his rink let him down, or that was Crook, lead man for the opposition, better a civil statement to be able to get the lay of the ice quicker and impart this information to his skipper; that "Reddy" was serious when he went all out, and that the Brooks Club was paying Bassano a friendly visit. At any rate, Marcy or Brooks went down, and we won for the visitors and at the expense of our postmaster. Down 10-3 in early stages of the game, skipper Redmond came back strong to finish 11-4. If you ask me, Reddy, I think your leading man was stage struck!

Again the Bassano Curling Club has a worthy representation at the Calgary hospital, in the personnel of G. A. Simpson, skip; A. J. Young, P. Macleod and "Doc" Macleod. It is needless to say that our rink is capable of upholding the prestige of local curlers, who will watch with interest their progress in Calgary during the week. Whether these boys come home with any jewelry or not, remains to be seen. The main thing is that they are up there, and are in the "swim."

To Mr. Flanagan goes the credit for selecting the new theme song adopted by the ladies curling club. "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight."

Years ago I heard a story—whether it is true or not, I do not know—at any rate this is how I heard it. A local curler, who from the early fall till late spring forenoon everything else for the morning and evening, one night in the middle of a crucial game by a phone call, informing him that the rink was leaving over his home, and would undoubtedly land any minute. Not leaving before the calls became more frequent and persistent, he finally took himself away, and when he returned this day, I understood, in fact that it only took him two ends to reach the arrival into this rink. This is only potential curler. This story is only potential curler.

A PRAYER FOR ARMED AND OTHERS

The following prayer comes from South Africa and may be sung to the tune of "There is Power in the Sea." It may be noted that the God to whom the appeal is made is no trivial God. He is God of all. The verses were written by Rev. R. Barry, rector of Newbury Church, Cape Town.

"O Lord, who from Thee above
Dixit show Thyself in peace and love,
Who gavest cloud and star their birth,
And arched them over sea and earth,
O hear us, in our fervent prayer,
For all in peril in the air.
O God, beneath whose mercy rest,
All creatures find a safe retreat,
Thy children where'er they go,
O hear us when we cry in prayer,
For all in peril from the air,
Whose wings protect them from every foe."

Makepeace

Thrills and spills plentiful at Evening Skating Party.

Thrills and spills were well practiced at Makepeace arena Saturday night. All the young people met and spent the evening skating. Having no electric lights, those who received no spills certainly received thrills and vice versa. The other people, however, were placed in the light, and enjoyed a game of bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Campbell had as their guests Sunday night, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Souter and family, Miss W. Brooks, Miss May Boyle and Mr. T. Robertson.

Friends and relatives gathered unexpectedly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bell on Monday night, the occasion being Mr. Bell's birthday. Those who were present from Makepeace included Mr. J. Bell, Mrs. E. Souter, Mr. E. W. Campbell and Mr. H. Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bell of Hussar were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Jorgensen.

There will be an annual school meeting at Makepeace on February 10th at 7 p.m. All taxpayers are requested to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin and Shirley spent Sunday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Dray.

Miss Irene Hayford spent the weekend at Makepeace visiting her friend, Miss Lola Bulger.

"The Makepeace" "Cracker-Jack" Club is sponsoring a big Valentine Dance to be held on February 10th. A night of entertainment will be in the office. There will be social dances and what not during the evening. Come and see the Valentine Men behind the door.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Nall and Mr. and Mrs. P. Bulger spent the evening Friday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Campbell.

Too Mild for Hockey—So the Boys Play Broomball

The ice being a little too wet to play hockey, the Hussar boys defeated the local hockey team in a game of broomball here on Sunday. The Hussar school children are expected on Sunday, providing we still have ice.

Miss Irene Hayford spent the weekend at Makepeace visiting her friend, Miss Lola Bulger.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roberge, Miss D. Roberge and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. L. and daughter spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery of Hussar.

Mr. Joe Turner is nothing but a ball of twine these days, and does any one know why? He's just discovered some one has a very pretty blond for a sister.

ROSEMARY NOTES

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Ruth Hamer who passed away at her home on Monday, January 27th, were conducted Friday afternoon at the Memorial Church. Mrs. Hamer suffered a stroke for several weeks.

Surviving are her husband, one daughter (Mrs. Peter Krause) and one son. Interment was made in the local cemetery.

The John Deere show held in the Church here was well attended and enjoyed by all.

A show was given for Mrs. Bling, Gallup in the L.D.S. Church. Many musical presents were given the bride. Games were played and a delicious lunch was served.

Local 'Spell To Open Next Monday

Next Monday morning, commencing at 9 a.m., the major sport attraction of the year will swing into action when A. J. Young, president of the local curling club, cuts the first rock which will mark the opening of the Bassano Curling Club's three day open bonspiel.

One of the largest entries in the history of the club is expected to participate. Present indications point to a ward an entry of between twenty-five and thirty rinks. Of these, the bulk will be for the local club, the balance coming from surrounding towns and villages. Crowfoot and Makepeace, communities in the north and west of here, have no curling clubs, but they are sending in an entry each. On Wednesday afternoon of this week these rinks were in town, and spent a few hours at the rink ironing out a few kinks in preparation for next Monday. Other towns expected to be represented are: Brooks, Glenora, Glenora, Tilley, Arrowwood, Hussar, Chancellors, Standand and possibly a few others who have not yet made any contact with the hospital committee.

As in former years there will be three competitions: namely, Grand Challenge; Calgary Power; and the Merchants and Consolation. A very attractive display of prizes have been collected. All these prizes have been contributed from business, firms and individuals throughout Western Canada. A complete list of the donors and the prizes contributed will be made public next week. To date contributions have been received from the Calgary Power Company, T. Stait Co., Ltd.; Macdonalds, Consolidated; Medicine Hat; Medicine Hat Pottery; Henry Birt and Sons; Delvilliers Ltd.; Motor Car Supply; North Star Oil Co. H. Macdonald; The Calgary Herald; and several others.

Commencing at nine o'clock in the morning on Monday, Feb. 1st, four or all, he competitions have been run till anyone in town or in the country, wishing to enter this bonspiel should get in touch with ice draw secretary S. Haakmar, at the earliest possible date.

The local club is sparing no time or effort to make the visit-out of town curlers a pleasant one while they are in Bassano next week. With first class accommodation, the curling rink and elsewhere in town, it is hoped visiting curlers will find this a happy pleasant one.

RED CROSS CLUBS FOR TROOPS IN ENGLAND

The Canadian Red Cross Society's first residential club for the accommodation of Canadian soldiers on leave in London, England, will be opened within the next few days. It was announced recently. It will provide overnight accommodation, day service and meals on "very modest" rates.

Acting on a report from its London Advisory Committee, the Society recently authorized immediate establishment of such clubs to care for the Canadians.

During the last war the Society's Maple Leaf Clubs provided over 600,000 nights' lodging and over one million meals to Canadians in Great Britain, and this added to the comfort as well as the health of the men of the Canadian Army.

Countess

Mr. and Mrs. William Ferryhill and Rosemary were visitors at Mr. and Mrs. George Ferryhill on Sunday evening.

The Countess, Juvelia Huchard, came played the Rosemary "Two-Wheel" at Rosemary last Saturday. The score was 2-2.

Marjorie Gambel called at the Ferryhill home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Campbell and daughter, Mrs. Peter Krause, were guests of Mrs. J. H. Bell on Monday night.

E.I.D. NOTES

FARMERS IN DISTRICT PROPOSE TO GROW FIBRE FLAX

It has been reported that some of our farmers in the District are proposing to grow fibre flax this year in those who contemplate doing so, we submit for their attention the following:

"The Research Laboratory of the Board of Civil Commission for Canada at Winnipeg has written calling attention to the danger of cross pollination of the "three varieties" with the "new varieties." It is pointed out that the two types may not be grown in the same area for this reason and they suggest that anyone interested in the growing of flax should consult with Mr. Hutchinson of the Flax Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in connection with any project of this kind which may be under consideration."

Is Rolling Hills Area All Taken Up by Settlers

Members of the District seeking and are advised that there are no parcels available in the Rolling Hills area. The District has already with respect to this area have been received that it is deemed advisable to make this information public. The District has some for sale. There will be a limited number of parcels available in the North West.

Anyone looking for high class York shawls and girls is advised that Mr. Campbell of 250-2nd Avenue, N. E. has some for sale.

"HELLO, GEM, ALBERTA"

Gem Lead Speaks on Broadcast To Talk "Back Home"

Radio listeners of the district, who tuned in Monday evening of this week, when they heard a radio broadcast from R.C. Hut in London, England. On the broadcast, many Canadian soldiers with the Active Service Units in the Old Country, sent greetings to kin folk in this country.

The peak of the broadcast for district listeners came when one of the soldiers spoke the words: "Hello, Gem, Alberta. Having a good time here. This is Angus, McKay speaking."

The message was brief, but it cut to the heart of the matter when the parents of men enlisted from this district, and their encampment in the Old Country.

McKay was well known in the Gem district, where he had been employed on a farm for some time. He was among the first to enlist the service from the district, doing so three days after the declaration of war. He accompanied Jack Brown to Calgary, and both enlisted at the same time. Brown is also in the Old Country.

It is understood that a similar broadcast is being arranged in Canada for next Monday night, when Canadian members of the Royal Air Force will send messages to relatives "across the pond." This broadcast will be looked forward to particularly by Bassano citizens, who will listen anxiously to hear if any of her seven local boys in the R.A.F. speak.

Cooler Weather

Weather conditions during the past few days have been extremely mild, for this time of the year, but signs of a let-up were in evidence Wednesday afternoon. Following several days of cold weather, during which the thermometer dropped as low as 36 degrees below zero, the mild spell was welcomed by practically everyone.

Ice in both the curling and skating rinks suffered considerably from the mild spell, and skating and curling were held up on Monday night. However, on Tuesday, both rinks were in use, although the ice was rather thin.

The drop in temperature on Wednesday brought the ice back to normal, and ice skating and curling again proceeded at full stride during the evening.

Federal Election To Be Held in Early Spring

Alberta's Aim of Provincial Legislature before Federal Type By Announcement of Election Date—March 26th.

Alberta entered a crisis over the past weekend wrapped up in the question of whether provincial politics with its own rancor and its own intense problems, would be posed in the centre of the federal crisis by the forcing of an Alberta election campaign at the same time as the federal election.

"The national election set for March 26th will have just one chief issue, that will be the question of whether the dominion is going to change its government in the middle of its war plan. There will be no question of whether Canada is to remain in the war, for the leading national parties are competing only in their demands for greater and greater war effort by the dominion."

It is to be expected that there will be much mud thrown at the present national government by the other parties. It has already been accused of not prosecuting the war to the full extent of the need, and there will be allegations of mis-handling the whole of the war effort. The government in opposition to the King government, including Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, will have much to say about Prime Minister Mackenzie King's action in dissolving parliament after just three hours of the session. But the prime minister has already replied that for the good of the nation at large there was nothing else to do after the injection of provincial politics and party personal animosities and national political ambitions into the subject of Canada-at-war.

Reports from Ontario have indicated that the people of that province are likely to demand Premier Hepburn for his interferences, when the time comes.

Mr. Alberta Premier William Aberhart also thrust himself into the federal picture, by condemning Prime Minister King for calling a federal election—although this would normally be a dominion election any way.

The King's action, Mr. Aberhart pronounced in a formal statement, was "strategic rather than democratic."

"Surely another two or three months could have mattered if everything is in order and if the present federal government is truly so effective as its members claim it is," said the Alberta Premier. Sudden announcement of a federal election, within a few weeks of the regular session of parliament without a moment's notice are certainly contrary to what the people have a right to expect at such a time as this; it has filled the minds of the people with wonderment and left them bewildered," he cried.

DANCE IN L.O.O.F. HALL ON SATURDAY EVENING

A dance will be held in the L.O.O.F. Hall in Bassano this Saturday, February 1st, between the hours of one and twelve o'clock in the evening. Dancers in the town and district are asked to keep this in mind, and be on hand for the fun. The entertainment is being sponsored by the Rhythm Rascals orchestra, who are also supplying the music.

NEAT FOR WHEAT

Addressing the convention of the Canadian chamber of agriculture in Ottawa, Hon. W. B. Mather, M.P. for the district, and a former minister of agriculture, pointed out, what to do with low quality grain. Six hundred pounds of low-grade wheat, he said, used as seed wheat, could be transformed ultimately into 1100 pounds of prime Wiltshire ends of bacon.

PRICE DATA

It costs more to live than it used to. According to reports from the Dominion bureau of statistics, the cost of living index for Canada based on 1913 as 100, in November, 1939, was 135.5. The figure for December last year was 135.5. The bureau indicates that the increase was due to rising cost of clothing which influences the index more than a slight increase in food prices.

He said that people would resent the "summary dismissal of the opposition without a chance for them to be informed regarding matters of grave public importance." Opposition members of the Alberta legislature announced that if the premier's pronouncement, for they remembered how they have been refused information by the Alberta government in the past and how they have been harried, when attempting to speak on controversial issues.

"The essential conditions and the roads at this season of the year is a source of the provinces will be met as practically to dis-franchise many of our people," the Alberta premier said, "and the Alberta government will continue, and then concluded with a hint of guidance which revealed him as working against the present federal government."

"The whole question seems to be strategic rather than democratic, and no doubt the present all over Canada will recognize this and decide the matter in the best interests of the country."

The date of this statement and all it contained, less than 24 hours after it was issued it became known that the Alberta government, and the Alberta Social Credit League were being severely to discover whether they still could spring a provincial election, before March 26th. Prime Minister Mackenzie King's action, had upset all their calculations, for although Aberhart had said the previous week that the plan was to hold a provincial election before the federal election, he had not intended to do so.

He wants to hold a provincial election before the federal election, but he is expected to have lots of time for a legislative session before it.

He wants to hold a provincial election before the federal election, but he is expected to have lots of time for a legislative session before it.

The legislature session had been called for Feb. 1st, but that date could be advanced, but only by a few days. And Social Credit members of the legislature were now under a great deal of pressure to discover how few days they would need to sit in order to qualify in the eyes of the voters for the $2000 which each member would receive in session. That hunt was in sharp and significant contrast to the indifference of the federal government, all the while the federal government in Ottawa collected just $25 each instead of the $4,000 they would have received if they had continued the parliamentary session. It was reported to be a growing move in Edmonton to abandon the provincial election until then.

FORMER DANCING TEACHER FEATURED ON BROADCAST

Featuring in a radio broadcast originating on the stage of the Palace Theatre in Calgary, is Miss Patsy Toms, former dancing teacher in Bassano, who while here proved to be quite popular, with the young folks of the town. The broadcast may be heard every Wednesday night between 8:30 and 9 p.m. from a Calgary radio station.

Patsy first appeared on the program three weeks ago, as a singer. She was received with such enthusiasm by the audience that she will hold a regular position in the broadcast. Besides being a "hit" as a singer, Patsy is claimed amongst the best as a tap dancer, but as yet has not performed at the theatre for the entertainment of the audience.

Miss Toms conducted a dancing class here for approximately two years. She is now in the employ of the following which also made a trip to eastern Canada, with the Imperial Oil show. This show played in Bassano early last summer. Down east, Patsy, along with the group, was beautifully received. Among the entertainment provided for them was a trip to Chatham to see the Dionne girls, and a visit to the New York World's Fair.

Young People and Politics

THE MAJORITY OF Young People of the present generation, it asked among political arisians, would be able to give but a nappazzara answer. Little is known regarding the leaders in the national line by the young people, and judging by their attitude, they care less.

The lack of interest may be attributed to the common belief that politics is for oldsters who know all the tricks and the belief that all politicians, if not crooked, are slightly bent. However, it is the duty of every citizen, young or old, to take an active interest in the affairs of their government. Only by so doing can politics be kept free from the manipulations of unworthy office-holders.

Young people of course find it difficult to make any headway in most of the political organizations dominated by the older experienced people. Political organizations will urge young people to take an active interest, but when they propose to do so their suggestions are frowned on and discouraged because of lack of experience.

However, young people may have vigorous organizations of their own, through which they can accomplish a great deal toward improving the prevailing conception of politics.

The young people of today are the electors of tomorrow, and they should prepare now for the time when they will exercise their franchise, by getting an insight into the functions of government. Canada thus will have an efficient electorate to guide its future destiny.

A Comparison

LAST WEEK WE Received through the mail, a bulletin from the Alberta Liberal Association, bringing to our attention a comparison of the expenditures of the Social Credit Government with previous governing bodies. We reprint a few of these from the bulletin for the information of readers of this district.

Figures quoted in the bulletin show that salaries and wages paid to public servants by the Social Credit government were increased by twenty-eight per cent, or from $3,963,885.52, to $5,084,092.48, and that travelling expenses took a twenty per cent boost, from $398,732.32 in 1935 to $481,529.40 in 1939.

Greatest increase in the expense record took place in the Department of Trade and Industry (although to be fair, the scope of this department has greatly widened), where salaries jumped from $2,621.29 to $57,779.12, or 2,104 per cent, and travelling expenses from $142.97 to $12,497.78, or 8,698 per cent. All other departments mentioned in the bulletin showed increases of from seven to two hundred and forty-four per cent, giving an average increase on salaries and wages of twenty-eight per cent, and on travelling expenses twenty per cent.

In the same years the cost of printing, stationery and office supplies (and the Recorder didn't get any of this) rose from $155,154.37 in 1935, to $197,713.65 in 1939, or twenty-seven per cent, and postage, telegrams and telephones rose from $175,801.73 in 1935 to $204,763.77 in 1939, or 16 per cent.

We are inclined to agree with the editor of the Drumheller Mail, who says: "We are all for higher standards of living and adequate salaries to maintain such standards, and it's a great thing to have more jobs given out to the printing and stationery industry, but when this comes from the source of a government, which pledged itself to cut expenses and reduce taxation, it doesn't look as though the administration is practicing what it preaches."

Now that a definite date has been set for the federal election, it is expected that the provincial government will soon make known their plans for an election this year. In the meantime, it would be well for electors to investigate statistics, and study them thoroughly, preparing to elect a provincial government, when the time comes, that will prove efficient in serving the people during its term of office. As the Mail says: "In 1935 the people of Alberta wanted a change and they got it—they are now satisfied? And does the new Social Credit platform appeal to them as did the $25 Dividend per month five years ago?"

We have become so accustomed to the pranks the weather man plays on us in Alberta, that we hardly noticed the "chinnok" the first of the week.

OTHERS VIEWS ON THE FEDERAL ELECTION

SURPRISE PACKAGE

The surprise package of the week is the dissolution of the Dominion parliament by Prime Minister McKenzie King. Whether or not it is being done from the standpoint of political strategy, we can't help but think that Mitchell Hepburn spoke out of turn and that the ultimate results at the polls will demonstrate the soundness of this prophecy. This is no time to wash political and personal lines in public. Whoever is returned to power will be faced with the prosecution of the war, and this is no time to cut party lines too fine. Coming closer to home, how will this move affect the political set-up in Alberta? Aberhart has practically declared an election for this summer. It is a safe bet that should the Conservatives be returned to power a lot of Aberhart's publicity legislation will be promptly dumped into oblivion, and should King be returned to power with a solid majority there will be a tinkering down on Alberta's experiment. —Clareholm Local Press

WAR IS MAIN ISSUE

Mr. King will of course recognize that a dissolution raises issues which the opposition parties are quite entitled to bring forward and discuss. He will be accused, as indeed he must have expected that he is exploiting a favorable situation in order to extract from it the last possible ounce of political advantage. He will be accused, too, of seeking by an election to avoid examination of the several charges which have already been laid against him. These accusations he must face and answer, and he must explain too his preference to do so from the hustings rather than on the floor of the House of Commons. This is Mr. King's problem. But neither he nor Dr. Manion, his principal opponent, must expect that he will be aided to any great extent by traditional party loyalty and sentiment. Both leaders would be well advised to remember that the country is interested not so much in the fate of the Liberal or Conservative party as in the efficient conduct of the war.—Winnipeg Free Press.

SELECT RIGHT CANDIDATES

There is no doubt what the people want. They want Canada's part in the war carried out with maximum efficiency in every way. They want power and drive behind our war effort. They want partisan advantage forgotten for the duration of the war. They want directness and definiteness about our war aims carried out in practical programs. The best way of ensuring that the people will get what they want is to elect a Parliament that will be strong alert, keen. A parliament capable of telling the government—any government—what it wants, and seeing to it that the government carries out its wishes. That means, in the first place, the right candidates—and it is up to the patriotic Canadians to see that the right candidates are nominated, regardless of party politics.—Vancouver Province.

SOMETHING FOHR NOTHING

THE SOMETHING-FOR-Nothing boys want all arrears in taxes wiped out; want all school books furnished free; want the bonus on Alberta made goods doubled, from three per cent to six per cent; still want interest free loans; want all private debts reduced by fifty per cent; want lowered relief; want another recall act that would not apply to Aberhart and want all government jobs handed to good Social Crediters' (not that Aberhart would harbor this thought for a minute).—Black Diamond Flame.

THE U.F.A. CONVENTION

THE MAIN feature in the U.F.A. Convention held in Edmonton was the decision of that farmers' organization to remain out of politics. As the years go by it becomes more obvious that the U.F.A. made a mistake in entering the political field. It is true that the men they elected were mostly able and high principled individuals. They did their best in the topsy-turvy world of politics. They have nothing to be ashamed of in this record they left behind them. But the U.F.A. was made a political body and this came near to being its ruin. It will not be easy for the U.F.A. to get rid of the taint of politics.—Hanna Herald.

DURING 1940

Take time to work—it is the price of success.
 Take time to think—it is the source of power.
 Take time to play—it is the secret of perennial youth.
 Take time to read—it is the fountain of wisdom.
 Take time to worship—it is the highway to reverence.
 Take time to be friendly—it is the road to happiness.
 Take time to dream—it is hitching your wagon to a star.

Sale of Cargoes of Wheat to Russia Brings Orders-in-Council on Acts

The sale last week of four cargoes of Canadian wheat for shipment to the Russian port of Vladivostok on the Pacific Ocean has given rise to considerable public discussion of the moral and legal aspects of trading with a country which is though still neutral in the war in which Canada is involved. It is bound by a commercial treaty (and perhaps also by other ties) to the enemy and is engaged in a campaign on her own account. In face of this discussion the Dominion government yesterday passed two orders-in-council, one under authority of the War Measures Act and the other under the Customs Act, to control exports.

Reports of what into Vladivostok are nothing new. Although Russia as a whole is a net exporter of wheat, the surplus areas lie thousands of miles from Vladivostok and are separated from that port by vast stretches of Siberia. For a few years after the inauguration of the five-year plan an attempt was made to move wheat from European Russia by way of the Trans-Siberian railway, but apparently this proved too costly. In recent years the consumption requirements of the Vladivostok area have been met instead by wheat from the United States, Canada or Australia.

This year Russia had been buying her requirements on the United States Pacific coast until the export subsidy on wheat moving in that direction was suddenly cancelled a few weeks ago. The demand then switched to Canada and the first cargoes contemplated was the four cargoes referred to above.

Apart altogether from the moral issue at stake, the decision as to whether or permit this particular export of wheat is a matter of determining to what extent imports of Canadian wheat into Vladivostok would injure that staple. "First, it may be observed that the direct transportation of wheat, which across Russia from Vladivostok into Germany would be as difficult and expensive as the transport of wheat from the Russian tranship to Vladivostok.

But this, after all, is of little consequence. The main point to determine is whether imports of Canadian wheat at Vladivostok would enable Russia to export more wheat from her wheat growing areas. Assuming that Russia was not able to buy wheat from other countries, then, theoretically, Russia would be forced to ship wheat across Siberia, thus reducing her exportable surplus, or alternatively it would have to let her military establishment and the civilian population at Vladivostok go short of bread.

Two questions therefore require an answer before the effects of any Canadian action can be measured. First of all, will Russia be able to obtain wheat from other exporting countries which are under the United States or Australian embargo? If Canadian exports are prohibited? Second, will Russia still be able to obtain Canadian and other kinds of wheat which she would be importing from other countries like Japan? If the answer to either of these questions is in the affirmative, then "the prohibition of Canadian wheat exports to Russia whatever other justification there may be for such action, will have little effect on Russian aid to Germany, nor, for that matter, on the outcome of the Russo-Finnish war."

Furthermore, if limitation or prohibition of exports of Canadian wheat to Russia is contemplated, not with a view to preventing the release of corresponding amounts of wheat to Germany, but simply on the grounds that Russia is an aggressor against Finland, the implications of such action should be ashamed of in this record they left behind them. But the U.F.A. was made a political body and this came near to being its ruin. It will not be easy for the U.F.A. to get rid of the taint of politics.—Hanna Herald.

"This particular example is illustrative of the kind of problems which do and will arise in the administering of the two orders-in-council passed Tuesday and of other measures affecting the trade of Canada with neutral countries. Any one of the neutral countries bordering on Germany, for example, is free to buy wheat in the United States, Argentina, Australia, Rumania, Russia, and in Canada if a license is granted. Until the wheat arrives in the neutral country it is impossible to tell how much has been bought and to decide whether some of it may not be transhipped to Germany. The control, to be effective, must therefore be exercised as close to the ports of the neutral country as possible. The British navy and continental authorities are exercising that control in the only practicable area. Licensing of exports by the Canadian government may be useful in certain cases but will hardly supersede the blockade.

surpassed by one that recently appeared in print, about a year ago, like the one mentioned above, thought so much of the game that he managed to subvert the whole family with the spirit of the curling season. This Scot whose name might have been McTavish or MacDonald, was asked by his wife, one night when a thaw had definitely put a temporary halt to his curling "If he would arrange for the preacher to come over and have the bairn christened." "What bairn," asked the surprised Mr. Scot, "Ours," explained his good wife. After considerable explaining he was informed that the baby had been born while he was participating in Oakdown "spiel, and not wanting to say anything to him that might upset his game, had not mentioned it. Later she mentioned it but thought at the time that he hadna paid her any heed. From one bonspiel to another he had travelled, she waiting all the while for an oppo'tune time to inform him. On one occasion when she thought she had made him understand, he had replied "that following an operation his third man had last year, he had never been so a' guid man 'a' b'oom." At any rate Mr. McTavish or MacDonald agreed to have the "miller" later in that night and the baby was duly christened.

Twenty Local Rinks To Take Part in Open Bonspiel

At a meeting of the staffs of the local curling clubs and the Bonspiel Committee, held Wednesday at the curling rink, twelve rinks were arranged for entries in the Open Bonspiel which commences next Monday morning.

It is hoped that one or two more rinks will be made up before Monday morning, in which case there will hardly be any member of the local club not in the "spiel." The personnel of the rinks as they stand now will be maintained and can only be changed with the approval of the Bonspiel Committee. Any member of the curling club not on one of the rinks and wishing to enter a rink is requested to get in touch with the committee as soon as possible. Non club-members, residents of Bassano, wanting to curl in the affair can do so, for a fee of two dollars.

The personnel of the rinks as arranged on Wednesday are as follows:

Brookbank, skip: Meares, Davis, McCulloch.
 Riley, skip: R. MacLean, Triebner, Downs
 A. Cathro, skip: Nodé MacLean, B. Wight, N. Bassano.
 Redmond, skip: Beeber, D. Cathro, G. LaPage
 MacNeil, skip: Zeienaki, W. Bassano, R. Marquardt
 Pierson, skip: Flood, J. Snape, H. Pransell
 Young, skip: McKinnon, A. Currie, J. F. Johnson
 Simpson skip: G. Cathro, Burrows, Ferguson

S. H. Edwards, skip: Sam Edwards, N. Wight, Palmer
 L. Edwards, skip: H. T. Johnson, Greenwood, H. McElmer

Kelly skip: McKee, Gordon, J. Avery, Jr.
 Haskayne, skip: Hanna, Cary, Douglass

Royal Canadian Curling Club rules will govern this bonspiel.

HOCKEY GAME TOMORROW NITE

The Bassano Bears will meet the Glen, Senior Hockey team at the local arena on Friday night, (tomorrow) Feb. 2nd, at 8:30 p.m.

The Glen boys are reported to be a pretty good team this year, having on their roster players who have performed up in the Senior leagues. These players are recent settlers in the Glen District and have been working out with the Glen team. A real good game is assured.

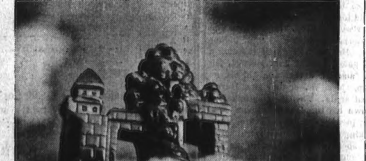

BOX SOCIAL INSTEAD OF DANCE AT MAKEPEACE ON 16th

Since going to press, the Recorder has been informed that it will be a box social that will be staged in Makepeace on February 16th.

The dance was a done as is stated in the Makepeace Notes. Dancing will fill a major part of the program, with the setting of lunch boxes as a high light. Keep this affair in mind.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

TRICK PICTURES

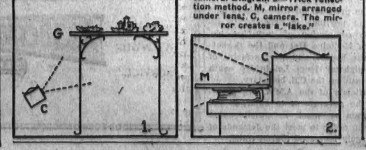

"Castle in the clouds"—an easy trick shot you can make at home. For how to do it, see below.

TRICK pictures made with the aid of glass or mirrors are easy—and these devices permit many unusual effects.
 Place an object on a table with glass top—shoot from underneath the table—and the object seems to be floating in air, for the glass, of course, will be invisible.
 That is how the picture of the "castle in the clouds," shown above, was taken. A big piece of glass served as support—the castle is a toy one—the clouds are pieces of fluffy cotton. And a portrait attachment was used on the camera to permit shooting "close-up." Diagram 1 shows how things were arranged.
 You can use this same technique in shooting a picture of a pet—in picturing a ship model—showing a doll making a high dive—and in many other clever, striking snapshots. Just have the glass well cleaned, don't allow it to pick up reflections from your photo light, and your pictures will truly puzzle anyone who views them.

 Mirrors are extremely useful in making trick maps. For an amusing shot, get a plain unmounted mirror, and place it level just under the camera lens as shown in Diagram 2. Take a picture of your house with this arrangement—if the mirror is correctly adjusted as shown, your picture will show a lake in your front yard! The mirror cuts off the lower half of the scene, and substitutes an upside-down reflection, just as would appear in a smooth sheet of water!
 Try these simple, amusing camera stunts. You can make trick pictures as well as anybody!

LEWIS SERVICES COM. MEETS NEXT THURSDAY

Commencing Thursday, February 1st, and every Thursday thereafter on St. Basil's, special Lenten services will be conducted in St. Columba's R. C. Church in Bassano, by the Rev. P. Moroye of Brooks. The services will be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Catholic Ladies' Altar Society are preparing to celebrate St. Patrick's Day again this year, with another big dance. The date of this will be announced in the near future. A Calvary orchestra will be secured to supply the music.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO PRESENT SHORT PROGRAM

The students of Bassano High and Intermediate schools are combining their efforts to present a three hour program of dramatic, musical, and pantomime, and play numbers. The event will take place on February 1st in Bassano. It will be followed by a dance celebrating St. Valentine's Day. Proceeds are to be shared by the Juvenile Hockey Club and the School Dramatic Society. Your support will be appreciated.

CLUB 2-BASSANO 3

An exceptionally fought lot, and before a sizeable crowd, the Bassano Barons defeated a 3-2 victory over Les Melbourn's Clary Cougars at the Glen arena on Wednesday night.

The locals were down 1-0 at the end of the second canto, when they pulled the pressure to be ahead 3-1 just before the final bell.

McBride played a consistent game in the nets for Bassano, being beat by two freshish goals. The Cougars drew first blood at McBride's shot and rolled along the ice jumping McBride's skate. Bill Marquardt was robbed once for the locals when the "ruck" jumped after "he" but "Raining Rabbit" in the Clary net, at his mercy play was exceptionally clean, with Broadfoot picking up the only penalty when he was hauled for loitering.

The third period opened with plenty of speed and action. Bill Marquardt got the equalizer when he picked up Art Arlison's puck near the goal, pulled out the custodian and fired into the far corner. Bassano put the locals ahead for the first time when he got away a shot from a near impossible angle on an assist by Bill Marquardt. Beattie and Marquardt received minor penalties for roughing.

Three performers of this town's entry were Rosemary boys, now residents of the Bassano dormitory.

Rosemary—Penner, Frank, Simmons, Peasey, B. Peterson, Crapo, Narum, P. Shito, Johnson, D. Shito.

Bassano—J. McBride, Young, Sibbald, D. MacLean, D. McBride, O. McBride, Peterson, Broadfoot.

Referee—R. Arlison, Bassano.

"THE STORE OF QUALITY"

FAIRY PRICES

The Dominion government should negotiate directly with the British government to establish a price level for Canadian wheat in relation to the cost of other commodities. This step was advocated before the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture by its president, J. H. Wesson of Regina, who is also president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool. Mr. Wesson declared the wheat pools believe complete control of wheat marketing should be vested in a Canadian wheat board. He thought 1938 price levels should be used to establish the price base.

YOUTH TRAINING

Training of Canada's young people is one of the most important activities of which the government is aware. Norman McArthur told the Dominion-Provincial conference on youth training in Ottawa recently. The conference passed a resolution urging that all youth training projects should make it one of their main objectives to instill in the minds of any Canadian the inherent value of "his democratic method."

HELP WANTED

Canada will soon be facing a labor shortage, according to James Dunlop, vice-president and general manager of the Massey Harris Co. One problem soon will be a shortage of manpower, rather than unemployment. Mr. Dunlop told the Toronto board of trade. A report from London states that a similar club provided during the present war by the Victoria League in London, is already over-crowded and applications are being turned away. The building and equipment to be provided by the Canadian Red Cross will be operated by the Canadian Women's Club in London, the Red Cross underwriting the net cost of this operation.

BRIDGE FANS!—HAVE YOU A STORY TO MATCH THIS ONE?

Thirteen Spades, Rary a Trick!

We reprint the following story from the Drumheller Mail, believing it to be of interest to local bridge fans.

"Pete dealt a prize hand of Leo Joffe's Tuesday evening when playing contract bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hilda Harris. Leo held thirteen spades, but he never had the chance to take a single trick. How? Well, this was the way.

"The first bidder, Mrs. J. E. Wilder, and Leo Joffe's partner, held a poor hand—all spot cards, and could not bid. She passed. Mrs. R. Harris held the Queen of hearts, Queens, Jack and four spot cards in clubs; King, Queen, Jack and three spot cards in diamonds. She came Leo with his 13 spades. The last bidder was Mrs. Leo Joffe, who held Ace, King, Jack, and three spots in hearts; Ace, King and two spots in clubs; Ace and three spots in diamonds.

"Mrs. Wilder and Mrs. Harris passed. Leo Joffe (with his thirteen spades) bid four in spades, hoping the next player would double him and give him a chance to re-double for a higher score. But his better half (holding a good hand) was at first puzzled, but then 'smelled a rat' and bid six no trump. Mrs. Wilder and Mrs. Harris passed again. Then Leo Joffe raised his own bid to seven no trump. Mrs. Joffe, in whose hand were three aces, two kings, a knave and several other good spot cards, decided to go the limit, and bid seven no trump.

"With the highest possible bid having been named, the play proceeded. Mrs. Wilder led with a spot card which Leo Joffe could not win, having all spades in his hand and therefore he could not get the lead. Mrs. Joffe took the first trick and all the rest. She registered 1230 points—one thousand and a grand slam and 230 for seven no trump."

$5,000,000 FOR ALBERTA ROADS

Provincial expenditures of at least $5,000,000 will be proposed in estimates to be brought down in the Alberta legislature at the session scheduled to open in February.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association have been informed that the appropriations will be at least as much as last year.

The 1939 program included $1,000,000 for main highways construction for which at least as much will be asked this year. Much of this is expected to be utilized for reconstruction and surfacing.

For district and secondary highways upwards of $500,000 is expected to be proposed to be used for construction and maintenance costs.

The province also is proposed to make a large expenditure on reconstructing and surfacing the Jasper highway, east and west of Edmonton. It has been asked the Dominion government for a grant of $500,000 for this road, which would be matched dollar for dollar by the province.

The program for the southern part of the province is expected to include completion of surfacing between Medicine Hat and the Saskatchewan border, and also surfacing of the highway from Lethbridge south to Coumbs on the U.S. boundary.

Officials of the A.M.A. are pressing the government to enlarge the program as much as possible this year in order to meet the demands of a largely increased tourist trade.
